

Literacy and Education Consultant

Joy Ayabe has served in a number of roles in Papua New Guinea over the past 32 years; translator, literacy worker and trainer. Joy is currently involved in training Papua New Guinean men and women to work within their own vernacular languages as literacy workers and trainers. Crucial to the task of providing Scriptures in the heart languages of the people, is ensuring that there is a 'readership' ready for those Scriptures when they are produced. Please consider how you might partner with Joy in her Wycliffe ministry financially or in prayer.
